ART SHOW JURORS

ABOUT JUROR 1: Joe Feddersen, Joe Feddersen first studied printmaking at Wenatchee Community College under the direction of printmaker Robert Graves, and then later studied with influential artists Glen Alps and Michael Spafford at the University of Washington, where he received his B.F.A. in 1983. He went on to receive an M.F.A. at the University of Wisconsin, Madison in 1989, and studied with Dean Meeker and Truman Lowe. Since that time has taught art at The Evergreen State College in Olympia. Feddersen has been honored with an Eiteljorg Fellowship for Native American Fine Art (2001) and exhibited his work at the Smithsonian's National Museum of the American Indian as part of the Continuum Series, in New York City in summer 2003. A new recently released monogram, Joe Feddersen: Vital Signs, is a new addition to the Jacob Lawrence Series of books by University of Washington Press.

Feddersen has worked in glass, painting, public art, photography, and computer-generated imagery, but he is best known as a printmaker. As a member of the Colville Confederated Tribes located in north central Washington State, Feddersen associates his work with the geometric patterns derived from his Plateau ancestry. He infuses his work with designs that abstractly evoke the symbols of contemporary urban life.

ABOUT JUROR 2: Isabella Valencia, Isabella Valencia is an arts activist and gallery owner from Everett, WA. Her gallery touts the tag line “where the art doesn’t suck”. Black Lab Gallery features a range of art and artists in all mediums. The art represented embraces a sense of whimsy and lightheartedness and appeals to a wide range of people. Isabella’s Black Lab Gallery is also a participant and major supporter of the Everett Art Walk which takes place each third Thursday of the month. A winner of the 25th City of Everett Mayor’s Arts Award as a catalyst for emerging artists, Isabella was recognized for her efforts for mentoring and encouraging young artists. Isabella and Black Lab Gallery have also been leading the charge on a historic renovation in the heart of downtown Everett. The Rockefeller Hotel will soon be reopened as studio space for artist and musicians.
